—Prompt CIO Blast Heard— Curtis' Security Plan Said Most Sweeping

Pensions For Nearly All Retired Persons Would Be Provided

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Carl T. Curtis (R-Meb.) of a House subcommittee Tuesday proposed a sweeping overhaul of the social security system to provide pensions immediately for almost all retired persons over 65.

His program, proposing the most sweeping changes in years, would be financed by extending the social security tax to cover almost all workers under 65, and to all types of income.

He would raise the minimum social security payment from the present $25 monthly to $45, and ease retirement tests so that workers could make up to $1,000 annually and still draw their pensions.

This almost universal pension plan calls for abolishing the present federal program of direct welfare grants to the needy aged. States and local governments could continue welfare grants.

Curtis outlined his program in a statement and a subsequent interview.

He estimated his proposal would add more than 3 1/2 billion dollars to the cost of Old Age and Survivors Insurance (OASI) next year, making the total $6,870,000,000.

Rate Jump

He predicted it would bring in revenue of about $7,300,000,000, thus adding a net of about 630 million next year to the present 19 billion dollar social security trust fund. He would let the social security tax rate jump from 1 1/2 per cent to 2 per cent of wages up to $3,500 annually, as scheduled next Friday.

Curtis heads a special subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee which has

Power Failure Hits Lights Here

Apparent power failure interrupted light service in parts of Lincoln Tuesday evening. The three "black-outs" occurred between 5:40 and 6:15 p.m., lasting about five minutes each.

A City Light Department spokesman said the trouble was on the tie-line between the Loup Public Power District sub-station near the Air Base and the city's A Street plant.

Officials at the city power station at 29th and A were still at a loss early Wednesday morning to explain what caused the lights to go out. A crew from the plant checked the entire line, but the officials said, and found nothing out of order.

Traffic signals and street lights were affected. Coming during the rush-hour traffic, the street signal failure caused temporary confusion among drivers.

—Hanoi— French In Indo-China Bolstered

Warplanes Open A Counter-Offensive

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—The French poured troops into central Indo-China Tuesday to reinforce a counter-offensive already opened by warplanes against the Vietnamese rebels who split the country in two.

The French concentrated at the Laotian Air Base of Seno, about 40 miles south of the line that Communist-led battalions sliced westward across Laos from old bases on the seacoast of neighboring Viet Nam to Thailand's Mekong River frontier during Christmas week.

Fresh men massed at Seno with survivors of French union garrisons withdrawn or overrun during the Red offensive. To the north lies the ruins of Thakhek, a town of 10,000 the French regarded as a trap and abandoned to the Vietnamese. Twenty miles to the southwest lies Savannakhet, a Mekong River port to which French civilians of Thakhek have been evacuated.

Pilots flying American-supplied B-26 bombers and Bearcat fighters strafed long trails of coolies carrying in supplies for the rebels on their backs. French ground reconnaissance units, pushing deep into the Laos jungle, said they were unable to contact the rebels for the third straight day. French sources speculated that the rebels led by Moscow-trained Ho Chi-minh were temporarily avoiding battle—possibly to build strength for an assault on Seno. (See story of State Dept. told a news conference in Washington he felt the French could deal effectively with the situation in Laos.)

Frigid Air's Bite Enveloping State

Near zero temperatures and a light frosting of snow possible over some parts of the state is the forecast for Wednesday.

The prediction calls for a light scattering of snow over the extreme east portion of the state Wednesday night while the temperatures in that area are expected to warm somewhat.

It won't be hot anywhere in the state Wednesday, however, the forecaster said. The highest Wednesday will be 10-15 in the extreme northeast to the 30s in the southwest.

Sisters' Condition Said 'Good' Following Crash

Mrs. Doris Ames, 19, and Donna Lowell, 15, sisters from Ashland, were reported late Tuesday night to be in "good condition" at Bryan Memorial Hospital after suffering injuries when their car ran off the road and down an embankment near Ashland Monday night.

State Safety Patrol reported the car, driven by Mrs. Ames, had apparently struck the soft gravel shoulder of the road.

Mt. Wilson Is Ringed In Flame

...Fire Battle Waged

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Mount Wilson, with its famed observatory, resorts and television transmitter area, was ringed in flame Tuesday as hundreds of fire fighters using mechanical equipment and shovels launched an all-out battle against the year's worst forest fire.

The flames ate through tinder-dry brush and tall timber to within 200 feet of the resort area at some points.

Fire fighting officials said that while winds have temporarily died down and that no new outbreaks have been reported in the area, the Mount Wilson region still is regarded as critical.

Some 600 men have been battling the Mount Wilson blaze since it roared out of control Sunday afternoon. Winds clocked up to 90 miles per hour swept the fire from canyon to canyon over a wide area.

Valuable observatory equipment was moved inside the huge dome of the observatory, which is believed to be fireproof. If the flames reach the broadcasting towers, television in the Los Angeles area could be blacked out.

Elsewhere on the forest fire front, threats to the community of Sierra Madre abated with the absence of winds. Some 500 residents were evacuated from the area Monday.

Income Tax Office Ready For Returns

The Bureau of Internal Revenue will start accepting income tax returns next Monday.

Everyone who earned more than $600 the past year must file a return by March 15. Persons who must file an amendment to their estimated income for 1953 must do so by Jan. 15.

No major changes were made this year in the method of filing returns. Persons who did not their own returns should mail them to 1820 Douglas, Omaha.

Starting Monday the Lincoln Internal Revenue Service office in the post office building will be open from 8 a.m. until 4:45 p.m. each week day to help taxpayers file returns.

There will be an information desk at the east end of the second floor to direct taxpayers to rooms made available for helping them file returns.

Eliga Haynes Dies; Address Unknown

Eliga Haynes, in his late fifties, address unknown, collapsed and died, apparently of a heart attack, in a liquor store at 1008 P Street Tuesday.

Sheriff Merle Karnopp said the identity of the man was obtained from a social security card found in his billfold. He had been working for a short time at a hotel and had previously worked as a railroad section hand.

Karnopp said fingerprints will be sent to the FBI in Washington, D. C., to determine if Haynes is listed there as a missing person.

Star Staff Writer

Dennis McLain, 16-year-old Riverside youth facing life in the Nebraska State Penitentiary for the murder of Blanche Irene, Karen Taubert, 16, who he had a "nice" Christmas and received a "pretty good Christmas present."

McLain entered the prison Monday afternoon. He stated he felt much better and more relaxed now that his trial is over and realizes his sentence could have been "a lot worse."

"I was really worried," said McLain, "but now I think I got a pretty good Christmas present."

"I hope now that I will be able to take some correspondence courses and get some college training behind me. I have lived all my life on a farm and hope I can be assigned to farm work here."

With evident hopes of a pardon some day, McLain said he was "going to make a perfect record here. I want to be dependable and will do whatever they tell me to."

"It just means wiping the slate clean and starting life all over again. At least, I have hope now."

The youth had no complaints on any phases of his prison life or his trial. The trial, he said, was very fair.

Last week a jury at Chadron found McLain guilty of first degree murder.

Penitentiary Warden Herbert Hahn stated that McLain will be assigned to a work detail in about one week.

McLain was brought to the penitentiary by Dawes County Sheriff James Butler and Sheridan County Sheriff Wendell Hills.

Aandahl Says: Power Policy Protects Government Customers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fred C. Aandahl, assistant secretary of the interior, said Tuesday the department's new Missouri River Basin power marketing policy was drawn to protect the rights of legally designated government preference customers.

He told the House Interior Affairs Committee that the power marketing policy for the Missouri Basin reclamation project is expected to work to the advantage of rural electric cooperatives and municipalities.

It was the second appearance of Aandahl and other top interior officials before congressional committees to explain provisions of the policy—first announced last fall—which has drawn heavy fire from REA groups.

And apparently the explaining is still not over. Chairman Miller (R-Meb.) of the House committee said he would submit a list of 40 questions to Aandahl for answers at further committee sessions next week.

Explanation

Previously, Aandahl, Ralph Tudor, under secretary of interior, and other department officials had spent several days explaining the power policy to a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee.

At the Senate subcommittee hearings, REA representatives expressed fear that the marketing policy was so worded that their organizations would be forced to enter into contracts immediately for all government power which they expected to use in the future.

Since there will be a "demand charge" for power contracted for, although not yet used, they asserted the policy would heavily penalize the REAs.

This fear was based on the elimination of the "withdrawal clause" formerly contained in most Reclamation Bureau power contracts with private or non-preference customers, under which power could be recontracted for use of preference users when needed.

Open Door

The REA men said that apparently the new policy would open the door for the government to enter into 20-year power supply contracts with private customers and REAs to protect themselves, would have to contract at once for power to meet their future needs.

Aandahl insisted Tuesday that such apprehensions were without basis.

Under the reorganizing act passed by the Legislature the committee can divide the county into as many districts as it chooses, he said.

But, Turner explained, it was only a matter of time before the matter must be held hearings and an election.

Under the present method, a petition signed by 55 per cent of the eligible voters in a school district is sufficient without an election. The petition must be approved by the county superintendent. However, and hearings can be called.

Ransom Story A Lie, Grand Jury Reports

St. Louis Police Officer, Who Played Hero's Role In Greenlease Case, Now Faces Perjury Charge

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Louis Shoulders, who played a hero's role when he caught the kidnap-killer of little Bobby Greenlease, Tuesday was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury for perjury.

The jury declared Shoulders, former St. Louis police lieutenant, had when he told his story of the arrest and recovery of $500,000 of the ransom $500,000.

The missing half of the ransom money never has been found. Judge Richard Duncan, who received the indictment, set bond at $10,000. In St. Louis, a woman who answered the phone soon after the indictment was returned, said Shoulders was not at home.

The U.S. Marshall's office in St. Louis said it had not yet received word of the indictment.

Shoulders and Patrolman Elmer Dolan, who also was indicted for perjury two weeks ago, arrested Carl Austin Hall, 34, the money-mad kidnaper last Oct. 6. This was eight days after Hall, and his drunken, divorced sweetheart Mrs. Bonnie Heady, had seized the 6-year-old son of a Kansas City millionaire, and shot him to death in a Kansas wheat field. Hall and Mrs. Heady were convicted and put to death, side by side, in the Missouri penitentiary gas chamber Dec. 18.

Dolan Also Questioned

But both insisted they knew nothing of the disappearance of the missing half of the ransom. Hall said he had more than $800,000 when in his hotel room when Shoulders and Dolan arrested him. Only minutes before the lethal gas snuffed out his life, Hall told federal officers he could give them no further clue to the missing money.

Shoulders and Dolan both appeared before the Grand Jury that indicted Hall and Mrs. Heady. They said they took the suitcases containing the money to the police station promptly, and they gave no suitcases or money brought into the police station at the time Hall was brought in and booked.

It was this testimony on which Tuesday's indictment was based. The 12-page indictment said this in its key paragraph:

Termed Untrue

"The testimony of Louis Shoulders, as he then and there well knew and believed, was untrue and false in that the suitcases containing the ransom money were not taken into the police station at the time and in the manner alleged in the testimony of Shoulders."

This same story brought about Shoulders' resignation from the St. Louis Police Department. A Police Board started an investigation of the arrest last October. Shoulders resigned in anger after testifying before the board. He said his reputation as a police officer had been destroyed. He had told the board that he brought Hall and the money to the Newstead Station, booked Hall, and then left for about an hour while he took his automobile to the home of his landlady, Miss June George.

Other testimony, from policemen and visitors in the station, said they saw no suitcases brought in with Hall or prior to the Shoulders departure and return.

Dolan also testified that the money suitcases were brought into the station with Hall. He said he took one suitcase in and Shoulders carried in the other.

New Members
Glenn Umberger, District 126
Victor Schwanninger, District 11
Donald Egger, District 147

Re-elected Members
William Mann, District 102
Edwin Booth, District 10

Rural elementary districts are represented by four school board members and one non-board member. They are Mann, Booth, Umberger, Schwanninger and Olson, the last being a non-board member.

Representing the high school districts are three school board members and one non-board member. They are Harlan, Wagner, Egger and Nelson, the last being the non-board member.

All of the non-board members are former members of school boards.

The new committee will meet Saturday, Jan. 16, at the courthouse to reorganize and elect a new chairman. Present chairman is Carl Nelson of Raymond.

The re-official committee member is Lancaster County Sup't. Glenn Turner.

The group will also compile a report on the "condition of schools in the county in regard to reorganizing and the plans of the committee for 1954," Nelson said.

The committee members will hold office for four years, as provided by the state Reorganization of School Districts Act.

The terms of the following committee members have expired:

—U.S. Air And Naval Power May Strike—

Secretary Dulles Drops Broad Hint To Red China

Intervention In Indo-China Or Resumption Of War In Korea Is Likely To Bring Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles hinted broadly Tuesday American air and naval power might strike at the China mainland if Red Chinese troops openly intervene in Indo-China or resume the war in Korea.

He gave this warning at a news conference while at the same time minimizing the military importance of a new Communist thrust across the narrow waist of Indo-China.

Dulles' remarks reinforced a similar warning he issued in a speech before an American Legion convention in St. Louis last Sept. 2.

At that time, the secretary said any new Red aggression would cause grave consequences "which would strip the Communists of their 'privileged sanctuary' in Manchuria."

In recalling this warning Tuesday, Dulles specifically noted the growing American Navy and Air Force in the Far East as possible weapons of retaliation.

Permits Direct Quotes

Any renewal of hostilities in Korea or a Chinese Communist attack in Indo-China, he said, would bring an American reaction "not necessarily confined to the particular area the Communists choose to make the theater of their new aggression."

Instead of trying to meet any new aggression "merely by land power of our own on Asia," he said, "there would be more reliance on (American) sea and air power which would give us a greater choice."

Departing from his usual custom, Dulles permitted his remarks to be quoted directly.

The secretary expressed complete confidence in the ability of French and Indo-Chinese forces to counter the latest Vietnamese Communist attack in the kingdom of Laos.

He maintained that this Red gain has been very greatly exaggerated in the American press. He said the Communist advance to the border of neighboring Thailand in one sector does not pose a present threat to that country. Neither, he said, does it appreciably upset French plans for eventual victory.

Strength Unimpaired

Dulles stressed that President Eisenhower's decision to withdraw two American divisions from Korea will not lessen American military might in the area. He conceded that in terms of number of foot soldiers it would mean a decrease, but implied that new weapons which would be sent to this area would actually increase American fire power and capacity to retaliate.

Forces which remain, he said, will feature highly mobile air and naval units which can discharge all commitments and responsibilities the United States has undertaken in this critical Far East region.

Turning to other world problems, the secretary said in answering reporters' questions:

1. Russia's proposal for a three-week delay in the Berlin foreign ministers meeting is disappointing. But he indicated the United States would accept the Jan. 25 date since the West obviously can't meet with Russian officials sooner than they say they will be there.

2. He hopes representatives of Israel and Jordan will meet, as provided under terms of the armistice agreement, to try to eliminate some points of friction between them.

3. It is not impossible that Russia proposed a delay in the foreign ministers' meeting because of a relationship between that session and the Communist attacks in Indo-China. Dulles did not elaborate on this point, saying that he left it to reporters' imagination.

3-Months-Old Boy Receives Medal Of Honor For Father

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy laid on the baby blanket of a tiny child Tuesday the Medal of Honor awarded to his father who died heroically on a Korean battlefield.

The nation's highest military decoration was conferred posthumously on Hospitalman Francis Cotton Hammond of Alexandria, Va., killed as he worked to save wounded Marines on a fire-swept field.

Secretary of the Navy Robert Anderson, acting in behalf of President Eisenhower, awarded the medal to the dead corpsman by placing it near the hand of 3-months-old Francis Jr., who was born after his father's death last March 26. The baby's mother held him during the ceremony.

Anderson carried the baby in his arms into the Pentagon room where the ceremony was conducted.

Richly Deserved

Hammond was the fifth Navy man and the fourth hospital corpsman to receive the Medal of Honor in the Korean War.

Anderson told the baby, and the roomful of high officials and the relatives of the corpsman, that his father richly deserved the honor for "his sublime act of sacrifice." He said of Hammond that "this heroism is a part of a great and free Christian America."

Hammond was serving with the First Marine Division when he met his death. His unit, counter-attacking a strong Communist position, was pinned down by mortar and artillery fire.

He moved among the stricken for more than four hours, saving them and helping them start to safety, despite wounds he had received himself. When the order to withdraw came he refused the evacuation of other wounded Marines and, after remaining behind to help other corpsmen, was mortally wounded.

U.S. Swapping 'A' Information

CHALK RIVER, Ont. (AP)—Canada and the United States have been exchanging atomic information on processing isotopes for some time, an official of Canada's atomic energy plant said Tuesday night.

He was commenting on a statement by Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper in Washington saying the U. S. is exchanging such information with friendly nations.

Exchanges of information on atomic "processes" had been going on for about a year, the Canadian official said, since the U. S. Atomic Energy Law was amended to permit such discussions.

He declined, however, to describe the general nature of the information exchanged.

DOWNNEY, Calif. (INS)—North American Aviation, Inc., announced Tuesday that it has designed and built a powerful atomic energy reactor that already is in use for special nuclear research.

The announcement disclosed that the new reactor, described as a self-contained "percolating" reactor that can run for as long as 10 years without refueling, is being operated by the California Research and Development Co., at Livermore, Calif.

The new unit, a water boiler type reactor, is being used to study materials and components in connection with research for the Atomic Energy Commission.

BONN, Germany (AP)—A German Red Cross executive said Tuesday night that the bulk of an estimated 1,270,000 German soldiers captured by the Russians in World War II "are no longer alive."

The statement was made after Red Cross officials carefully questioned the latest group of German prisoners who have been returned after years in captivity in the Soviet Union.

The executive told a news conference "it is time to tell the truth to the relatives of missing German soldiers." He said interrogation of returned prisoners "shows conclusively that the bulk of the missing German soldiers are no longer alive."

'Ratpack' Indicted

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Grand Jury indictments were returned Tuesday night against four youths accused of the Jan. 1953 Christmas Day bombing of an anti-Communist Korean War veteran. They were charged with robbery and assault with force likely to do great bodily injury.

Earlier Tuesday night, another indictment was returned against Alex N. Seltzer, 27, who was indicted in connection with the bombing.

Spain Deal Studied

WASHINGTON (INS)—Two senators revealed Tuesday that the Eisenhower administration is seriously weighing a plan to use government farm surpluses to help pay for constructing U. S. air and naval bases in Spain.

Sens. Herman Welker (R-Ida.) and Pat McCarran (D-Nev.), reported that the unique proposal was suggested initially by West German construction firms and that it is receiving top level study.

In a joint statement, the two senators outlined the plan put forward by the West German firms. They said the Germans propose that they "supplement Spanish labor and that West Germany take up to 20 per cent of the cost of construction in surplus agricultural commodities now stored in the United States."

—Defense Contracts—

Priming Of Pump Readied

Dollars Will Go To Cities Hardest Hit By Unemployment

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower threw his support Tuesday behind a manpower policy of channeling more government defense contracts into areas "where there has been a large amount of unemployment."

The President expressed "full agreement" with the federal policy which the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) later said in Washington it announced last Nov. 4.

At that time the ODM named 17 large and 22 smaller metropolitan areas as localities of chronic labor surplus.

Washington officials said the President's action evidently was intended to notify the government purchasing agencies of full White House backing for the program.

Maybank Protests

From his home in Charleston, S. C., Sen. Maybank (D-SC) said in a statement that the president, in his defense contracts policy has "turned his back on his campaign promises of states' rights, more freedom for private business and greater economies in the government."

During the Truman administration, Maybank and some other Southerners waged a fight against a policy of special preference to areas of unemployment in the award of defense contracts—the principle of the policy Eisenhower endorsed Tuesday.

The President's endorsement came less than 24 hours after a majority of some 300 economists agreed in Washington that the country is having "an orthodox recession—mild but general and accompanied by production and payroll cuts."

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty insisted, however, that the timing of Tuesday's move by Eisenhower was in no way related to views expressed by economist members of the American Statistical Association.

A similar view has been voiced by a professional economist in Congress. Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.), who said last week that American business already is in the midst of a "real recession."

Talks With Advisers

Eisenhower's close work at his vacation headquarters Tuesday came shortly after he had conferred with two of his key advisers on economic problems—Dr. Gabriel Hauge and Dr. Arthur F. Burns. They met with the President to work on the annual economic report which he will send to Congress early next month.

Hagerty declared in response to a barrage of questions that the defense contracts policy is designed to relieve joblessness in areas where it has existed "quite a few years."

A system of giving preference on government contracts to areas with "surplus manpower" was put into effect by the Truman administration in 1952 and then dropped a few months ago.

In the memorandum, the President said Arthur S. Flemming, director of the Office of Defense Mobilization "recently issued a manpower policy designed to increase the number of contracts that are placed in areas where there has been a large amount of unemployment."

Turnpike Authority To Aim For More Tourist Traffic

By ARCH DONOVAN, Star Staff Writer

Nebraska Turnpike Authority at its organization meeting Tuesday decided to take a positive attitude and advance pro-Nebraska argument in an effort to attract more tourist traffic to the state. The three-member authority met informally for preliminary discussions with Gov. Robert C. Rosby and State Engineer L. N. Hess, ex-officio member.

The Authority received no funds when authorized by the last Legislature. They recognize that engineering and financial studies will be necessary. Some consulting firms have indicated a willingness to do the work on a contingency fee basis.

The three members unanimously expressed the opinion that all dealings will have to be "on top of the table" and that they will not allow any firm to "tie their hands."

Raymond E. McGrath, Omaha attorney, was selected chairman and W. W. Putney, Lincoln, vice-chairman. John B. Cook, Scottsbluff, is the third member.

Due to absence of funds for salaries, the Authority named Miss Ethel Collins of the highway department as acting secretary. The appointment is required by law.

The Authority inquired of Rosby about a survey made by the Highway Department a year ago on the advisability of a turnpike between Lincoln and Omaha. He advised them that the results were "negative," but they plan to study the report before the next meeting.

Rosby explained that the study showed that local traffic would not warrant a toll road and that interstate connections are necessary to make such a road profitable.

The Authority plans to study operating methods used in other states before formulating their own plans. They will also seek further information on the proposed federal interstate highway which would closely follow U.S. 30.

The members were agreed that a route through Nebraska is the "natural route" for east-west traffic and that the state should unite with others in advocating use of a Nebraska route in preference to one further south.

'Unexamined Life' Said Not Worthy By Dr. Sabin

"An unexamined life is not worthy of any man," Dr. Everett Sabin told a group of Methodist young people meeting at Nebraska Wesleyan University Tuesday night.

Theme of Dr. Sabin's talk was a year-end inventory of one's material and intangible possessions, spiritual values and debts and obligations.

Dr. Sabin was main speaker at a dinner meeting which closed a day-long midwinter institute for 150 boys and girls of the Methodist Youth Council Lincoln District.

Wesleyan Chancellor Carl C. Pracy also delivered two addresses during the institute. Youth Council Chairman Keith Hult of Tecumseh presided at the sessions.

SAN GABRIEL, Calif. (AP)—A medical rarity—birth of twins whose weight is exactly the same—was disclosed here. Doctors at San Gabriel Valley Hospital said the daughters of Mrs. Sally Gibbs, 19, both weighed 3 pounds 15 ounces at birth. Almost invariably, the doctors said, one twin outweighs the other.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Zsa Zsa Gabor called a news conference Tuesday to explain what she called a black eye.

She said Porfirio Rubirosa, the romantic Dominican ex-diplomat, "socked her" "in a fit of temper," when she refused to marry him.

And she said it was the first time she had ever been hit.

She didn't know, she said, whether Rubirosa's fist was open or clenched.

Rubirosa, whose name has been linked romantically with women all over the world, most recently has been reported interested in Zsa Zsa and here in Barbara Hutton. He said in Los Angeles that he would marry Barbara Wednesday in New York.

Zsa Zsa said he came to that conclusion after she refused again to marry him.

Benson Says Farm Policy To Be Geared To Economy Needs

Effective Program Promised

Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson promises, in the following exclusive article, that his administration will work to maintain and improve farm income and living standards at levels in line with the rest of the economy. Benson says that the administration's new farm program, to be presented to Congress early in 1954, will be geared to the "particular needs" of the nation's varied economy.

By EZRA TAFT BENSON

Secretary of Agriculture

WASHINGTON, INS.—The department of Agriculture has two main objectives to achieve in 1954. One is to continue the program of 1953 in giving more effective administration to current farm legislation that has even been given before. The other is to present to the Congress, and to the nation, the outline of a greatly improved farm program for the years of 1955 and beyond.

Legislation now on the book continues the present farm program unchanged through 1954. The administration's proposals for a new farm program will apply to the years which follow.

The farm which the administration will continue to bring to its administration of agricultural affairs in 1954 can be gauged by its achievements in 1953. During the past year the department has given farmers a better opportunity to take full advantage of price-support programs than ever before. And the same has been true of related assistance programs.

Better Service

The administration, for example, has brought forward the most comprehensive program ever developed to increase grain storage facilities. It has reorganized the department for better service to farmers. It has made hay and feed available to drought-stricken farmers. In 493 counties and 18 states, it has set up an emergency credit program. And it has set up new offices within the department to help expand domestic and foreign markets for agricultural commodities.

These are but a few of the things the department has done to relieve the plight of the farmer. In working them out, it has used every law on the books, every tool at its command. In many instances it has even gone beyond the requirement of the law.

Needless to say, the department in 1954 will continue to exert progressive, forward-looking leadership in its administration of the present farm program.

Living Standard

But perhaps the most hopeful note for the future is the progress which has been made toward the improvement of the present farm program. The goal of American agriculture is to maintain farm income and farm living standards at levels which are in line with the rest of the economy. And it is toward this goal that the present administration has been working.

During 1953 the new administration undertook the greatest effort in history to review and rebuild our farm programs. A nation-wide discussion program was carried out. Farmers and farm organizations, members of Congress, people in the department, the land-grant colleges and the experiment stations, and others all took part. Out of these discussions we have gained sound proposals for improving

Controversial Paving District

Protests have been made to the board of equalization on the total $135,000 cost of paving in the Haystack area between 48th and Touzalin from Glendale to Fremont.

Council Asks City Engineer To Check On Disputed Paving

The City Council, meeting as the board of equalization, has asked the city engineering department for a re-examination of benefits to property owners from paying in the contested District 1150 east of 48th.

Meeting for the second day Tuesday, the board again heard residents in the area maintain that benefits amounting to the total $135,000 cost of the paving were not to be found in the district. The double-lane paving on Sherwood Dr. claimed the residents, makes the cost of the paving excessive while the benefits of the double lane go to the entire city.

The board, explained Chairman Pat Ash, has two points to consider. First, he said, the actual benefits of residents in the district must be determined.

Secondly, he said, if benefits do not amount to the full $135,000, it must be determined where the money will come from to help defray the extra cost of the district.

It is considered possible that certain storm sewer expenses could be removed from the district and paid for out of the city's the farm programs we now have—proposals which will take the programs to the particular needs of the economy at this time—proposals which will strengthen the programs for the years that lie ahead.

The administration's new farm program will be presented to the Congress early in 1954. It will represent the best recommendations the department has been able to devise. And we are confident they will mark the nation's next forward step in the field of agricultural policy.

Condition Of Wheat Still High

Supply Of Surface Moisture Adequate

Winter wheat continues in excellent condition in Nebraska, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics said Tuesday.

Some western wheat fields are being mowed by sheep.

"The supply of surface moisture is adequate, as much of the snow which has fallen thus far has melted and has been absorbed by the soil," the weekly report continued.

The moisture has been beneficial also to fall seedings of grasses and legumes, and to permanent pasture.

Potato Shipment Slow

Shipment of potatoes continues to be considerably below last year's level. The price received by farmers for potatoes has been far below that of a year ago.

The feed grain supply is reported ample throughout most of the state, with a few counties in the eastern part of the state even showing a surplus.

Hay and forage are generally ample in all sections except the southeast and southwest, the report said.

The farm labor supply is adequate.

Farming Hike Seen

Other comment: Spring, 1954, following intentions indicate a 12 per cent increase over 1953, but the number of sows farrowed still would be considerably below the 1952 level. Commercial hog slaughter estimates for Nebraska for the first ten months of 1953, amounted to 21,190,000 head, 15 per cent less than in the corresponding part of 1952.

Cattle slaughter for the ten-month period totaled 1,300,000 head, a percentage increase of 25 per cent.

Sheep and lamb slaughter was up 7 per cent, exceeding a million head.

Nebraska bluegrass seed production in 1953 amounted to 1,000,000 pounds, only a fraction of the 16,800,000 pounds produced in 1952. Last year Nebraska was second in production this year, sixth.

Prevalence reports for the week ending Dec. 28:

Division	Prevalence
Eastern Division	0.1
Central Division	0.2
Western Division	0.3

AROUND TOWN

Jane Calhoun Is Tuesday Bride

THERE is considerable going on around town in spite of that slight post-Christmas, pre-New Year recession. There are post-Christmas guests, for instance, and plenty of plans for beginning the New Year in a festive fashion. Add to that some guest courtesies, a traveler or two—plus an equal number of homecomers and you have all the ingredients for a nice, new year morning.

HEARD a few moments ago that Dr. and Mrs. Howard Edwards and their three young daughters, Carol, Susan and Mary Ellen, arrived from Dixon, Ill., after Christmas to spend holiday week as the guests of Mrs. Edwards' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ganz.

On Wednesday Mrs. Ganz was a luncheon hostess at the University Club in courtesy to her daughter. Luncheon places were arranged for seven.

ALSO in town for the remainder of the holiday season is Miss May McCarthy of Madison, Wis., who is the house guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams.

WE introduced the three pretty guests from Emporia, Kan.—Ann Underwood, Vicki Bixler and Judy Morgan, yesterday—and their attractive hostesses

Miss Sandra Ellis and Miss Jean Garlinghouse. But we didn't tell you that Miss Ellis and Miss Garlinghouse were to be luncheon hostesses today at the University Club to complement the visitors. Luncheon places will be arranged for eight.

ALSO discovered that Mrs. Ralph H. Tallman of Creston, Ia., is in town—the holiday guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tallman.

AND spending the holidays in Lincoln, also, is Mrs. R. O. Reddish of Alliance who is the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Walt.

WHEN Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carter entertain at dinner this evening at the Lincoln Country Club, it will be strictly a family affair. The guest list will include their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Gotschall of Atkinson, who are spending the holidays in Lincoln—and another son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ganz who will come from Alto to join the family at dinner.

ANOTHER family party is the dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Lau will be host and hostess on Wednesday evening at the Lincoln Country Club. Mr. and Mrs. Lau's guest list will include Mrs. Lau's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold DeGross of Los Angeles; Mr. Lau's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. John Milligan and their family of Seattle—and Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan of Boston. Completing the group will be Mr. Lau's mother, Mrs. A. C. Lau, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Honeywell.

GAVE New Year's Eve a quick look—and it seems to be getting along nicely. There are many tentative plans by various groups for dining here—or there—and there are some very definite plans by some of the young crowd. In a no-host twelvemonth at the University Club on New Year's Eve will be Miss Holly Hawke, Arthur L. Weaver, Miss Suzanne Swingle, Bernard Randolph, Miss Judy Chapman, Jack Clark, Miss Sharon Quinn, Jim Kiehl, Carol Matcha, Dick Johnson, Miss Patti Prouty and Jack Folmer.

FOUND another group whose members have definite plans as far as New Year's Eve is concerned, also. They plan to dine at the University Club where a no-host table for 12 will be arranged for Mr. and Mrs. George Eager, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Coy, Mr. and Mrs. Avery Forke, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dunker, and Mr. and Mrs. John Groth.

SOMEONE called this morning to tell us the end of the story involving Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Matzke and their "Double or Nothing" try on TV. The Matzkes took home 40 dollars—and the contestant who received top honors as a winner was a young lady who is a member of the Saddlers Wells ballet.

The soft glow of candlelight on white Christmas trees, frosted snow branches and white blossoms made an attractive background for the wedding of Miss Jane Ann Calhoun, daughter of Mrs. O. V. Calhoun, and the late Dr. Calhoun, and Wall Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Weaver Jr., which took place on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 29, at St. Matthews Church, Episcopal. White Christmas trees lined the chancel, and in the sanctuary the altar was appointed with frosted snow sticks, white flowers and lighted candles. Snow branches and frosted snow sticks, fan arrangements of white blossoms, and clusters of triple candles completed the chancel decor. The recessed English windows were candle lighted, silhouetting frosted snow sticks against the stained glass and frosted snow branches and candles marked the processional aisle on either side.

The 4 o'clock service was solemnized by the Rev. James Stillwell, rector of St. Matthews, and Mrs. Lloyd True played the bridal processional and recessional. As the 150 guests assembled, Mrs. True also presented a prelude of organ music including Tchaikovsky's "Andante Cantabile," "Panis Angelicus," Franck, and "Adoration," Borowski.

Deep emerald green velvet was chosen for the bride's costume. The bridesmaids, who were Miss Mary Lou Calhoun, her sister's maid of honor; Miss Phyllis Loudon, Miss Barbara Bell, and Miss Sue Brownlee of Omaha, the bridesmaids. The frocks were fashioned with snugly fitted bodices and bouffant waist-length skirts. Their flared colonial bouquets were of white feathered frosted carnations each centered with a lighted candle, and encircled with deep green acacia leaves. Arthur L. Weaver served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were William Hopper, Charles Batten and Louis Roper.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, David Calhoun, chose a gown of heavy satin in the candlelight tone, for her wedding. The long-sleeved fitted bodice, fashioned with a deep V neckline, narrowed to a slender waist beneath which the folds of the extremely wide skirt extended into a long, cathedral train. Her full length veil of Princess lace was held to the head with a satin eclip dotted with seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white Amazon lilies and stephanotis.

At the reception for 200 guests which was held at the home of the bride's mother following the ceremony, the receiving line formed before the living room fireplace which was screened with frosted pine and snow branches. The mantel, appointed with the pine and snow branches, was centered with a gold wedding candle on either side of which were bridesmaids' bouquets. In the dining room the bride's table, arranged with a full-skirted cloth of white tulle over satin, was appointed with lighted candles in tall candelabra and

We doubt very much if Bob, Charlie, Fred and Steve Solheim (left to right) found Sunshine, Jack and Jill (also left to right) in their Christmas stockings or even under the tree—but when they looked out the window Christmas morning there were the three burros who had come all the way from Colorado to make the acquaintance and win the favor of the Solheim snail-fry.

Lake McConaughy 'On The Road Back'

Water Adds $10,000,000 Production

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP)—Storage water in Lake McConaughy is inching its way back to normal after reaching a six-year low at the end of the 1953 irrigation season.

As 1953 neared an end, storage water was back up to 1,440,000 acre feet after having dropped to 1,334,500 during the long fall drought.

At the start of the 1953 irrigation season, the Central Nebraska Tri-County Public Power and Irrigation District said water stored in the 2,000,000 acre-foot capacity reservoir behind Kingsley Dam near Ogallala totaled 1,841,600 acre feet.

Crops Watered

The 507,100 acre feet of water withdrawn from storage during the crop season furnished irrigation for over 100,000 acres of crops in the CNPID, which built and operates the Kingsley Dam reservoir, and for over 85,000 acres served by irrigation districts from North Platte to Kearney.

The use of this storage water also made the natural flow of the Platte River available to irrigation districts above North Platte, which would have had to at least partially shut down to allow enough water to flow down stream to supply high priority ditches, Tri-County said.

Stream Flow Low

District authorities said the Kearney Canal, which holds the oldest water rights on the river, would have been the only canal to get water during July, August and September had it been necessary to rely solely on natural stream flow.

It was estimated that the half billion acre feet of storage water used during the irrigation season added approximately $10,000,000 to the agricultural production of the valley, not counting the benefits of recharging ground water supplies, Tri-County said.

Kindness Act Is Not Enough For 3 Youths

OMAHA (AP)—Three youths, who dropped from the heights of civility to the depths of ingratitude, found themselves thinking over their act in jail.

Detectives said the three were walking along West Dodge St. when they saw a driverless car break loose and roll out of a nearby driveway. The trio halted the car and approached the house to notify the owner.

Detective Capt. Ernest Brown said the owner, Capt. A. D. Lucas, commanding officer of the Naval personnel center, Fort Omaha, thanked the boys for their kindness and gave them a $2 tip.

Instead of being satisfied, Brown said, the boys admitted going back to the car to steal a billfold containing $23 which Mrs. Lucas had left on the seat. Cruiser car officers arrested the trio moments later.

Two of the youths, aged 16 and 17, were turned over to juvenile officers Tuesday. The third, age 20, was cleared of petty larceny charges so he could enter the Marine Corps with an unblemished record.

York College Asks Cedar County Volunteers For Armed Restriction Lifting Forces Establish New State Record

The York College board of trustees appealed to the State Supreme Court Tuesday, asking the high court to remove a restriction from the deed to the college property.

The York County District Court recently refused to remove the restriction which the trustees claim beclouds title to the property and imperils the school's financial support.

The trustees declared in their brief that unless the restriction is removed, the Evangelical United Brethren Church, which supports the school, will withdraw its financial backing.

This would force closing of the school, the trustees said.

Death Cause Again Subject Of Testimony

OMAHA (INS)—Dr. Frank T. Hamilton, a pathologist testifying for the defense in the Joseph Kuykendall murder trial, said Tuesday that blood in the lungs of Mrs. Ardash Kuykendall from a fractured nose could have caused her death.

Another pathologist, Dr. James M. Brown, who performed an autopsy on the body of the 39-year-old Arizona waitress had said earlier that a skull fracture and resulting brain hemorrhage were the cause of death.

Dr. Hamilton conferred under cross-examination that what ever caused her death, the head injuries would have proved fatal.

Mrs. Kuykendall was found dying last June 13 amid the blood spattered furnishings of her truck trailer home west of Omaha.

Her strapping, 34-year-old husband is charged with first degree murder in her death.

Dr. Hamilton shed some light on one conflicting bit of testimony in the case. He testified that Dr. Brown told him of making an alleged hole in the heart of Mrs. Kuykendall during the autopsy.

Two morticians had said earlier in the trial that they saw a "hole" or a "tear" in the dead woman's heart.

Dr. Brown denied finding any hole in that organ during his examination of the body.

SIRLOIN STEAKS

Lb. 69c

U. S. Choice Graded, mature beef

WHY STEAKS COST MORE THAN POT ROAST

Remember the old "law of supply and demand"? If there is little supply and big demand for anything, it is bound to cost you more.

That's the case in steaks. Less than 3 per cent of a Choice steer is fancy steak—about 30 pounds of a 1,000-pound steer. While on the other hand there are 296 pounds of medium priced and economy cuts like pot roasts, shortribs and ground beef. Still enough people want those 30 pounds of steak to pay the premium price.

The trouble comes when people think that steak prices are typical of all beef prices. They are not at all. Look for yourself at the beef items at your Safeway store this week. You'll see you can get fine cuts of beef at less than half the price of fancy steaks!

Terps' Hopes Fade As Faloney's Knee Collapses

Quarterback May Miss Orange Bowl Contest

MIAMI, Fla., (AP)—Maryland's Orange Bowl hopes against Oklahoma faded Tuesday when the injured knee of Quarterback Bernie Faloney collapsed again in a dummy scrimmage.

"There goes our team," was the first reaction of Coach Jim Tatum. "If it was any other boy, it wouldn't be nearly as bad."

"With Faloney out, there goes moving the ball, kicking, defense and the morale of the team."

Faloney, who Tatum once said meant the difference between a great and a mediocre Maryland team, tore a ligament in his left knee in the national championship last game of the season with Alabama.

Tues. morning the second string, he cut into the line on a keep play and when he pulled up sharply the knee gave way.

At the time, Tatum was playing defensive end. "I could protect him myself. But it happened anyway."

Faloney had not been tackled since his injury. During the Orange Bowl scrimmage, Tatum had given the defense strict orders not to "play a hand on Faloney."

Dr. Thurston Adams, the team physician, said Faloney complained of a sharp pain on the outside of the knee and he may have suffered a muscle cramp rather than a tear to the torn ligaments.

"If it swells up overnight, it's bad news," Adams said. "If it doesn't, he can be counted on for something."

Tatum, however, went ahead on the assumption that Faloney was lost to the team for the New Year's Day game.

Charles Boxell will start for Faloney and Tatum called for additional scrimmage for Lynn Belicht and Dave Norz, who will be the second and third string quarterbacks. Both are good kickers.

'Greatest' Linemen To Collide In Miami Tilt

MIAMI, Fla., (AP)—College football's greatest linemen—fast-moving J. D. Roberts of Oklahoma and powerful Stan Jones of Maryland—will collide head-on in the Orange Bowl game.

Roberts, a 202-pound tackle, made speed and desire pay off with his selection as "Lineman of the Year" in the Associated Press poll. Jones, a 252-pound guard and probably the strongest man in college football, was runner-up in the balloting.

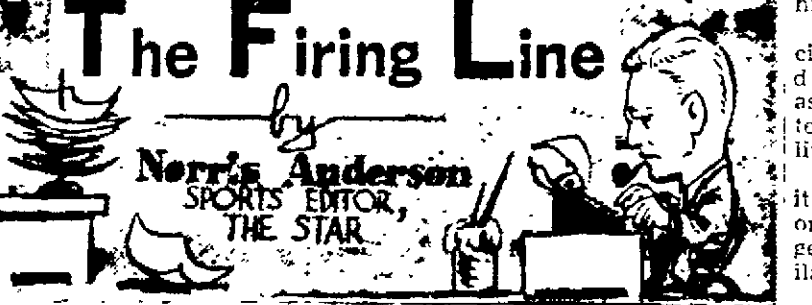

The two all-America forwards seemed eager for the direct contact which will come occasionally when Oklahoma is on the attack. Roberts plays the right side all the way. Jones is the right guard on offense but moves to the left side on defense.

"I always like to play against good football players," commented Jones, who is known to his teammates as "Supe"—short for "Superman." "I'm glad we have the opportunity to meet."

Roberts probably is a better charger than I am," Jones added. "He comes in lower and he's very fast. He must be awfully good to be linemen of the year."

Roberts said he had watched Jones closely in movies of the Maryland games and "he's a terrific player, a great charger. I'll be a fine experience to play against him."

"I'll be charging Jones on some of our plays," Roberts said. "I don't know how often we'll use those particular plays, so

Bill Johnson, the Husker center, says there's no way to compare Wade Hallbrook, 7-foot 3-inch Oregon State center, with Clyde Lovellette, the former All-America pivot from Kansas.

"Hallbrook is a completely different type of player," Bill says. "There is no way to guard against him. If you play behind him, he can hook over you with either hand."

If you play in front of him, his teammates will pass to him over your head."

"If you are good enough, you can stop Lovellette from behind," adds Bill. "But I don't know how you would stop Hallbrook."

Fred "Knobby" Menthert, the old Nebraska football manager, is now headquartering in Pasadena, Calif.—where he was with the Husker Rose Bowl squad of 1940.

"Quite a few old Huskers have joined the ranks of the smog-bound," writes Fred. "Freddie Meyer lives in Santa Ana, Clarence Herndon is selling insurance and Ed Ryan looked like the junior college coach of the year at Pasadena."

Link Lyman, former line coach, is an insurance executive in the same area and Pat

Saxton Must Top Flanagan To Meet Kid

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Johnny Saxton, craving a shot at welterweight champion Kid Gavilan, flings his ambitions and aggressive style against, dancing before Flanagan Wednesday night before a national television audience.

The 23-year-old New Yorker, third-ranking welter contender, was serenely undisturbed by the prospect of facing Flanagan's potent left hand and cleverness.

"We'll have something ready for him," Saxton said, "I'm not worried."

Saxton and his trainers were looking beyond Flanagan, in the general direction of Gavilan and Carmen Basilio, Gavilan's current leading challenger.

The Saxton camp is convinced Johnny has earned a crack at Gavilan, and in the event the Cuban moves into the middleweight division, a first shot at Basilio.

Flanagan, sharp after a rigid training grind in Florida, outlined his own strategy this way: "I think I can beat him if I keep him on the run and nail him with jabs and hooks."

The fight is probably the crucial one of Flanagan's up and down career. He now ranks as the No. 6 welterweight contender but could slip into oblivion with a decisive loss.

The St. Paul fighter realizes it. "I know this fight can make or break me. If I win, I can get Basilio and then maybe Gavilan."

The 10-round bout begins at 9 p.m. CST, and will be televised by CBS-TV.

Gagne Whips Art Nielson

... Pesek Victor

Vern Gagne, the United States champion, struck down a villainous pretender to his throne named Art "Goldilocks" Nielson at the fairgrounds wrestling arena Tuesday night.

As a howling crowd in the vicinity of 2,000 cheered him on, Gagne rallied to win the final two falls after Nielson annexed the first with a knee dip in 1:49.

The champion's celebrated "Oriental Claw" hold succumbed Nielson in the second fall in 2:46. When the bleeding Nielson lost his temper and started a slugging war, Gagne was awarded the third and deciding match in 3:15.

This set off a wholesale barrage of chairs and apples, directed at Nielson who went after both Gagne and Referee Joe Kreier.

Husker Jack Pesek looked like one of the best grapplers on the card in whitewash Larry Hawk in a flying drop kick in 16:05 of the first hour.

Prayer after Adam Krieger's semi-windup found Alo Lelani, who Roberto Pico with a wild chop and flying drop kick in 33:20 of the first round and then won the match on the 45-minute time limit.

Lincoln Star Special
MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM, KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Oklahoma speed and some fancy second half shooting by Bob Waller and Les Lane gave the Sooners a decisive 35 to 20 victory in the semifinals of the Big Seven press-on tourney here Tuesday night.

Oklahoma trailed 40-34 at the halftime intermission but Sterling Jones tied it up at 42-41 and Waller put his mates in front with 6:21 left in the quarter.

During the Sooners' torrid third period rally they outscored the Huskers 22-11 and were never headed.

Superior speed and hustle won for Bruce Drake's clan although the Huskers got a tough break when Chuck Smith was hurt early in the first period. Seger had three fouls called on him in the initial 10 minutes and had to play cautiously the rest of the 'ray.

During the third quarter which saw the Sooners get "red hot" Waller scored in 12 points and Lane 13 while NU was being held to a pair of field goals by Facker and seven free tosses.

It wasn't much of a ball game after the Sooners surged to the front.

Willard Fagler and Bill Johnson were Nebraska's high scorers with 15 points each. Don Weber, the ace of the Huskers' attack against Kansas State, was held to five points and left the game on fouls midway in the final quarter.

Oklahoma hit an amazing 494 per cent of its shots while Nebraska's percentage was 234.

Boxer Don Lee Dies Of Wound

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Don A. Lee, 38, former professional boxer from Edison, N.J., died of a bullet wound Tuesday, victim of a mistake in reading the number on a motel door key.

Sheriff's detectives said Lee was wounded last Friday night when he misread the number on the key and tried to enter unit No. 9 instead of the one to which he had just been assigned, No. 6. He had just checked into the motel in the suburban Inglewood area.

The occupant of No. 9, Nep Barragan, 42, a machinist, said he heard someone trying to get into his room and warned him to go away. Barragan told detectives the attempt to enter his room continued, despite warnings that he would shoot, and that he then fired shots through the door.

Lee was wounded in the lung. When officers arrived Barragan had barricaded himself in his room and had to be taken into custody with tear gas. Detectives said that since Lee died Barragan has been booked on suspicion of murder.

Lee, younger brother of Glenn Lee, also a ranking middleweight, boxed on a card at the fairgrounds in Lincoln in 1947 and was a frequent headliner in Omaha rings. From Nebraska, Lee went to California where he fought several main events at the Hollywood Legion Stadium.

"He was a swell fellow, a rugged boxer and a credit to the profession," commented Promoter Adam Kreizer of Lincoln.

EL CERRITO, Calif. (AP)—Augy Galan, coach for the Philadelphia Athletics, and the former Miss Shirley Boyle, were honeymooning Tuesday.

Miss Boyle and Galan, who last season managed the Oakland club in the Pacific Coast baseball league, were married here Sunday, in St. Jerome's Catholic Church.

Among The Cotton Bowlers

Johnson, 175-Pound Fullback, May Be Rice's Cotton Key

DALLAS (AP)—Next Friday, a slender blonde you wouldn't associate with the bruising job of fullbacking a football team will play his last college game and they'll sing "Rice's Honor" for David (Koske) Johnson.

A remarkable young man is this 175-pounder from the Texas Gulf coast country who went to Rice and became the fourth All-American produced there by Jim Neely in 14 years of coaching.

Alabama's Crimson Tide will feel the sting of his blasting plunges and free-wheel blocking in the Cotton Bowl. If he plays the same as in 10 other games this waning football season the Tide won't soon forget him.

Johnson personally accounted for 1,350 yards and 62 points in Rice's drive to the co-championship of the Southwest Conference and the $151,000 host spot in the Cotton Bowl.

The story of Killer Koske in his last and greatest year at Rice reads like a book on Frank Merriwell. Standing out in deepest memory is what he did the day the Owls beat Texas and actually earned their Cotton Bowl place.

He gained 111 yards in 26 runs, caught a pass for 33 yards and ran four kickoffs back 120 yards, two of which nullified Texas strategy of giving Rice two consecutive safeties. Rice won the game 18-13.

Johnson carried a terrific load. He was a linebacker on defense and he led the conference in three offensive departments—ball-carrying with 944 yards, kickoff returns with 224 yards and scoring 10 touchdowns and two conversions. He also did the team's punting, kicking 40 times for an average of 35.1 with five boots going out-of-bounds or dying inside the opposition's five.

After that Friday deluge, the Saturday menu calls for East-West over Dumont TV and MBS radio, starting at 3:30 p.m. CST.

Full Schedule Of TV Football Set

NEW YORK (AP)—Television and radio fans will get a full helping of football New Year's Day with all four major bowl games on the networks. Just for good measure, they'll also be treated to the East-West Shrine game from San Francisco Saturday afternoon.

The clash of Maryland and Oklahoma in Miami's Orange Bowl will be carried by CBS radio and TV Friday with game time at 1 p.m. CST. The Georgia Tech-West Virginia game in New Orleans' Sugar Bowl will be beamed by ABC radio and TV, and the Rice-Alabama game in Dallas' Cotton Bowl will be seen and heard on NBC radio and TV.

Starting time for the Sugar Bowl and Cotton Bowl is the same as the Orange Bowl, 1 p.m. CST. The Rose Bowl meeting of Michigan State and UCLA, starting at 4 p.m. CST will be carried on NBC radio and TV.

After that Friday deluge, the Saturday menu calls for East-West over Dumont TV and MBS radio, starting at 3:30 p.m. CST.

Stocks Bounce Up From Market Low

NEW YORK (AP)—Profit-taking for tax purposes hit the stock market hard Tuesday, but prices bounced up from the lows with a strong show of recovery strength.

Losses at the close went to between one and two points at the most in significant areas, whereas at one time they extended to two points or more.

Volume expanded markedly on the fall and on the partial recovery that followed. The pace of trading was orderly at all times.

The current four-day trading week offers the first opportunity for selling stocks to register a profit that can be counted at the new lower 1954 tax rate. Stocks sold for delivery in the regular way are put in the hands of the buyers next year thus recording the profit as having been made in 1953.

Among the major depressed were steel, oil, and copper. Profits in these areas were high and some of the sell orders were much needed to higher.

The New York stock market closed at 100.10, up 0.10 from 99.90. The Dow Jones Industrial Average closed at 295.10, up 0.10 from 295.00. The volume of trading was 1,100,000 shares.

U.S. Forces Strongest In History 'Short Of War'

Wilson Policy Is Outlined

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson Tuesday underlined his policy of strength through economy in a report to President Eisenhower describing U.S. military forces as the most powerful this country ever assembled "short of war."

The report, required by law, is the first formal accounting of stewardship by Wilson and his new defense team. Eisenhower will forward it to Congress.

Although concerned primarily with the first half of 1953, it also dealt with developments stemming from the "new look" at U.S. strategy and requirements that Wilson ordered his military chiefs to undertake.

It places heavy emphasis upon air power, new weapons, including atomic, and reductions in manpower without weakening America's fighting strength.

Further Cuts

Wilson cited the new team's success in paring $5,300,000,000 from the military budget for fiscal 1954, inherited from the Truman administration. He also reported his unwillingness to make further cuts for the sake of economy.

Any attempt to achieve a balanced budget in the year which started last July 1, Wilson said, would have involved greater reductions in the rate of defense build-up than was "prudent from the point of view of our national security."

The secretary said that by the beginning of last summer the immediate needs of the military services were being met by production, and his big problem had become the "orderly shifting of effort" from rapid expansion to "economical maintenance."

'Orderly Shifting'

In the six months since the end of the period covered in the defense review, Wilson has initiated action to carry out his views on "orderly shifting" of efforts on the American defense front. Less success has met his expressed views on what should be done other nations in Europe and Asia.

Of the six-nation European Army plan, which Wilson supported strongly, the secretary last June forecast ratification by the European countries in "the near future." The pact has not yet been ratified.

Wilson emphasized in his effort the importance of Indo-China and the threat of Communism there. He said the "timeliness" of U.S. military assistance has been a "major factor in improving the military situation in Indo-China."

The defense chief said a greater military build-up in Indo-China is a "prerequisite to eventual success."

'Itchless'

The Navy section of the semi-annual report listed achievements that ranged from the harnessing of atomic power for ship propulsion to the perfection of "itchless" underwear for sailors and marines.

Navy Secretary Anderson voiced grave concern about "our aging fleet" but pointed with pride at the progress on construction of two atomic powered submarines and work on two 60,000-ton aircraft carriers.

The Navy said it had tested against the enemy in Korea "with good success" new air-to-air rockets that are giving Navy planes fire power equivalent to three-inch guns.

The Navy also said it had four new types of torpedoes, all of them far more deadly and more accurate than World War II weapons.

Army Secretary Stevens devoted much of his section of the report to a discussion of the Army's manpower problems.

Stevens said far too many recruits and soldiers are "deficient mentally, emotionally and physically."

To meet the "threat of massive Communist armor," Stevens reported, the Army has developed a mobile anti-tank weapon system called the "Bat" which the Army believes can knock out any known tank.

Val Praises Nebraska CD Organization

Former Nebraska Gov. Val Peterson, present U.S. Civil Defense director, said Tuesday in Lincoln that Nebraska has one of the finest civil defense control centers in this part of the country.

Accompanied by Mrs. Peterson, the former governor stopped in Lincoln during a holiday visit with friends and relatives in Nebraska. He called at the Nebraska Civil Defense headquarters at the capitol, where he complimented state officers on their control organization.

Commenting on his new Washington job, Peterson said the business of increasing public interest in civil defense needs is a long and difficult one. Pointing to the importance of civilian protective measures, he said, "It took 300 years to build New York City, but it would take just three minutes for that city to be destroyed by atomic weapons."

Peterson, who will attend a conference with air defense officials to Colorado Springs next week, said his Washington duties include passing on emergency relief measures as well as handling civilian defense work. He said he has been called to attend several White House conferences and added that he expects that the frequency of these conferences will be stepped up in the future.

He and Mrs. Peterson were guests at the home of his brother, Col. Evar Peterson of Lincoln Tuesday night.
